Brokerage event, Open Innovation Forum - Sustainable Fashion Meets Technology, 6 July, Berlin, Germany

The "Open Innovation Forum – Sustainable Fashion Meets Technology" is an event designed as a platform offering a unique opportunity to meet potential partners for new business and upcoming projects. The event gives an overview on the Open Innovation approach and its challenges, as well as some showcases in the field of creative industries. Representatives of companies, universities and research institutes have an opportunity to present their own offers or requests for innovative solutions, exchange know-how with international experts, initiate and discuss new collaboration ideas and search for adequate project partners. This event represents a great commercial opportunity for your organisation and will bring together a wide range of like minded companies.

SMEs

Conference The results of the study on support for EU SMEs in international markets, 27 June 2011 Brussels

The study on support for EU SMEs in international markets, commissioned by DG Enterprise & Industry of the EC, is now nearing completion. A conference to present the key findings of the study is being organised.

The study focuses on three main areas: an assessment of market potential for SMEs in key markets outside the EU, an examination of the options to better connect European SMEs to international markets, and a review of measures to facilitate the access of European SMEs to these markets. The main international markets examined in the study are: Brazil, Russia, India, China (BRICs), Japan, South Korea and Ukraine. Early registration is highly recommended.

Regions and innovation policy

Regions are increasingly called upon to meet their own and national development goals by supporting innovation. However, many policies don't sufficiently recognise the variety in innovation potential across regions. So how can regions be agents of change, keeping pace with global trends.

New mini-site for the Innovation Union Competitiveness report 2011

The report provides a factual, statistical analysis of what needs to be done to close EU's innovation gap, the gap between where we are now and achieving the Innovation Union we need in EU. The report analyses the strengths, weaknesses of national research & innovation systems, provides solid facts on which to base national policy choices. It builds on the Innovation Union Scoreboard. It includes a factsheet detailing each country's research & innovation performance. Since the full report is very large, you may prefer to look at the executive summary, (available in 22 languages), at its major sections or chapter by chapter. The report also provides country-specific analysis on selected indicators, which can be downloaded by clicking on a coloured section of the map below or via the country profiles page.

Chain of Trust online survey on patients' and health professionals' perspective on telehealth launched

The European Patients' Forum (EPF) is implementing, together with 6 partners, an EU project co-financed by the EU Public Health Programme called "Chain of Trust". Started in January 2011, this project aims to assess the perspectives of the main end users of telehealth services, i.e. patients, doctors, nurses and pharmacists across the EU to see whether and how views have evolved since the initial deployment of telehealth and what barriers there still are to building confidence in and acceptance of this innovative type of services.

For more information, please visit www.chainoftrust.eu or contact Liуска Sanna or Walter Atzori.

One of the tools that the consortium is using in order to assess the views of patients and health professionals on telehealth is an online survey. This survey, which is available in 11 languages, is aimed at both users and non-users of telehealth services and consists of two questionnaires, one for patients and one for health professionals.

MI 4th Call - Indicative topics

The Innovative Medicines Initiative JU (IMI) will launch its 4th Call for Proposals mid-June 2011.

EU Medical Information System

- Building up a EU Medical Information Framework (EMIF) of patient-level data to support medical research.
This Call theme consists of three topics:
 - Information Framework / Knowledge Management Service Layer
 - Metabolic complications of obesity
 - Protective and precipitating markers for the development of Alzheimer's disease (AD) and other dementias
- eTRIKS: European Translational Information & Knowledge Management Services

Chemistry, Manufacturing and Control

- Delivery and targeting mechanisms for biological macromolecules
- In vivo* predictive biopharmaceutics tools for oral drug delivery

5. Sustainable Chemistry – delivering medicines for the 21st century

Technology and Molecular Disease Understanding

6. Human Induced Pluripotent Stem (hiPS) Cells for drug discovery and safety assessment

7. Understanding and optimising binding kinetics in drug discovery

Call for Candidature for the Steering Board of Net!Works Technology Platform

The election of the members of the Steering Board of Net!Works ETP for the period 2012-13 will take place during the 7th General Assembly of Net!Works, 5 October 2011, Bedford Hotel Brussels. I solicit Net!Works member organisations who are interested to become a member of the Steering Board to declare their candidature by filling the Candidature Declaration Form on the Net!Works web at <http://www.networks-etp.eu/index.php?id=58>

To declare candidature, use of the online form is obligatory. The deadline for submission is 14 September 2011, 24:00 CET. However, in order to facilitate organisation of the election, your submission of candidature by 15 July would be very much appreciated. Membership of the Net!Works Technology Platform is a pre-requisite to have the right to vote in the election, and also for candidature for the Steering Board. Interested non-members can still apply for Net!Works membership by 7 September 2011 to have their membership effective for the GA, subject to successful validation and approval of the application. Membership is free of charge.

The work and expenses of the Steering Board members is expected to be funded by the organisation to which each member belongs, and is performed on a voluntary basis. Net!Works does not refund any expenses, e.g. for travelling.

Please take note of the following dates and deadlines:

7 September 2011: Deadline for Net!Works membership applications becoming effective before Net!Works GA7 <http://www.networks-etp.eu/about-networks/how-to-join.html>. New members will be confirmed by 21 September.

14 September 2011, 24:00 CET: Deadline for submission of Declarations of Candidature for the Steering Board. Submission by 15 July would be appreciated.

23 September 2011: Confirmation of Declarations of Candidature, publication of candidates' profiles on the Net!Works web (members pages), and announcement to members.

European Cluster Policy Group Final Recommendations - A Call for Policy Action

Clusters are of growing importance in the new global environment in which the EU 2020 strategy has to succeed. In order to maximise the impact of cluster programmes across different dimensions of the EU 2020 strategy, there is a clear consensus across MS and EC that significant further steps are needed to improve the impact of these programmes.

Elearningeuropa.info launches its new user oriented platform elearningeuropa.info, the European reference portal on education and technology, launched its new platform. It is designed and built user-centered and it contains participatory tools to communicate, share and discuss. The EC initiated elearningeuropa.info 9 years ago, to support the transformation of education through technology. Available in 21 languages, it has now become a key forum for the generation and presentation of ideas.

Elearningeuropa.info has more than 35.000 registered users with an average of 16.000 monthly visits. Thanks to this large user base the portal provides great opportunities for research, exchange of ideas, information amongst researchers, practitioners, students and policy makers across Europe.

Users will be able to create communities, working groups around themes/topics of interest, use these privileged spaces to display their content to a wider audience. The first communities are up and running with discussions and insight into Language Learning and Social Media; Open Education virtual worlds and gaming.

Commission report highlights Europe's innovation emergency and analyses Member States' progress

The EU's innovation performance needs major improvements in many areas if the Europe 2020 strategy is to deliver smart sustainable growth, concludes the European Commission's 2011 Innovation Union Competitiveness Report. Europe needs more and 'smarter' investment in both public and private research and development – not only does this boost growth in the medium-term, it also has a counter-cyclical effect in times of crisis

15th IEEE International EDOC Conference, Helsinki, Finland, 29 August - 2 September 2011

The IEEE EDOC Enterprise Computing Conference, sponsored by IEEE Computer Society and IEEE Communications Society, is the key annual event in enterprise computing. EDOC conferences address the full range of engineering technologies, methods contributing to intra - and inter-enterprise distributed application systems. EDOC has brought together leading computer science researchers, IT decision makers, enterprise architects, solution designers, practitioners to discuss enterprise computing challenges, models, solutions from the perspectives of academia, industry, government. The resulting applications cover a broad spectrum of vertical domains, industry segments, from electronic/mobile commerce to real-time business applications for collaborating enterprises. The Conference emphasizes a holistic view of enterprise applications engineering, management, fostering integrated approaches that can address, relate processes, people, technology. Openness/distributed computing, based on services, components, objects are important themes.

8th REV Conference Remote Engineering & Virtual Instrumentation, Brasov, Romania, June 28 - July 1, 2011

REV are the annual conferences of the International Association of Online Engineering IAEOE www.online-engineering.org.

The general objective of this conference is to demonstrate, discuss fundamentals, applications, experiences in the field of remote engineering, virtual instrumentation. With the globalization of education the interest in and need of teleworking, remote services, collaborative working environments now increases rapidly. Another objective of the symposium is to discuss guidelines for education in university level courses for these topics.

The proceedings will be published on CD by the International Association of Online Engineering (IAOE). Interesting papers may be published in the International Journal of Online Engineering (iJOE), www.online-journals.org/i-joe/.

5th World Future Energy Summit , 16-19 January 2012, Abu Dhabi

The very successful 2011 edition, which welcomed over 26,000 attendees including 3000 Summit delegates, highlighted the growing need for sustainable energy sources, technology advancement, deployment, investment opportunities as well as public-private partnerships. In 2012, WFES will concentrate strongly on energy innovation in policy implementation, technology development, finance and investment approaches, and existing and upcoming projects;

- We will expand the popular Round Table Discussions to include more topics related to innovation.
- The Project Village will grow to include more projects from the MENA region.
- A new zone for innovative start-up companies will be introduced to showcase their advancements in renewable energy.
- Exhibitor Trail & New Product Guide will make the attendance more convenient for visitors interested in specific sectors.
- The Summit will set the scene for future energy discussions in 2012 with leading international speakers from government, industry, academia and finance sharing insights, expertise and cutting edge advances in technology.

Intensive NLP Practitioner Certification@ Coaching Training, Athens, Greece, 17-23 July 2011

NLP Practitioner Programme in sunny Athens in Greece for the first time. This is available for anyone to go to - no matter where you are based in the world. We have chosen this location for a number of reasons. Not least of all cost. The cost of getting to Greece at the moment is so cheap and the cost of accommodation is very reasonable.

We are working very closely with our NLP training partners "Quest for Success" headed up by the most wonderful, loving and caring ABNLP Accredited Trainer of Master NLP you would ever hope to meet.
